

About Claire Dickson

Claire is an accredited Executive Coach, Career Transition Coach and Leadership Development mentor, within HR Solutions, based in Prague. Previously, Claire operated at HR & Management Development Director Level for well over a decade.

Having worked in large international matrix organizations for 20 years, managing and leading teams herself, she has the personal experience to address the issues facing managers and leaders. She has experienced some of the “highs and lows” of managing a career herself and has guided many people to help them find both their passion and their right role.

Her clients tell that she has “an open and engaging style and will challenge, support, encourage and motivate individuals to achieve their goals”.

Williams & Partner Leadership Series

Making your Career Work for You

by Claire Dickson

Williams & Partner is introducing a new Leadership Series, entitled Leading and Managing Through Tough Times.

It consists of 3 interconnected seminars that will take place during this year. The seminars are designed to support you during these tough economic times, equipping you with the right skills & tools to overcome any barriers in your career.

Schedule

- Time: 17:30 till 20:30
- Date: 25 of March
- Location: PWC Business Center, Kateřinská 24

The first seminar of the series, entitled Making your Career Work for You is focused on developing strong career skills for middle managers, and specialists from different sectors, who are concerned about maximizing their opportunities, and taking the right choices in their career.

During this session you will learn how to:

- Identify and get focused on the goals you want to achieve
- Develop strategies for identifying your strengths, what is holding you back
- Create more success in your life

Registration

Registration fee is 500 CZK (including refreshments)

Register by mail at pop@wnp.com or tel: +420222550075

Deadline for registration is 20 of March

Please note that seats are limited.